

Writing Center Spring 2021

Reading Strategies for all Disciplines

Wednesday, February 10th from 9:00 – 10:00 a.m. (Stephanie Piazza)

Click here to register: https://academicsupport.fullcoll.edu/calendar/?mc_id=193

This workshop will introduce you to research-based reading comprehension strategies proven to be effective for all learners. These strategies can be applied to any assigned readings i.e. textbook chapters, books, essays, journal articles, etc.

Developing Effective Thesis Statements

Thursday, February 18th from 11:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. (Heidi Lamb)

Click here to register: https://academicsupport.fullcoll.edu/calendar/?cid=my-calendar&mc_id=191

Why do you need a thesis statement? This workshop will cover the appropriate placement of a thesis statement and also discuss the elements of a strong thesis. Students will also learn how to flesh out the introductory paragraph and develop solid topic sentences and appropriate supporting evidence.

How To Fix Your Run on Sentences and Comma Splice Errors

Friday, February 19th from 10:00 – 11:00 a.m. (Heidi Guss)

Click here to register: https://academicsupport.fullcoll.edu/calendar/?cid=my-calendar&mc_id=189

Many students struggle with run-ons and comma splices because they are trying to avoid using short, choppy sentences. This workshop will help you avoid these errors and connect sentences effectively. Suitable for all students.

Effectively Integrating Sources Into Your Writing

Tuesday, February 23rd from 3:00 – 4:00 p.m. (Geoffrey Smith)

Click here to register: https://academicsupport.fullcoll.edu/calendar/?mc_id=195

You've got your arguments. You've got your sources. Seamlessly weaving your essay's argument with support from your sources will strengthen your paper. This workshop will focus on bringing the two together.

Reading Strategies for all Disciplines

Thursday, February 25th from 9:00 – 10:00 a.m. (Stephanie Piazza)

Click here to register: https://academicsupport.fullcoll.edu/calendar/?mc_id=194

This workshop will introduce you to research-based reading comprehension strategies proven to be effective for all learners. These strategies can be applied to any assigned readings i.e. textbook chapters, books, essays, journal articles, etc.

How to Avoid Sentence Fragments

Monday, March 1st from 11:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. (Brianna Whitehall)

Click here to register: https://academicsupport.fullcoll.edu/calendar/?cid=my-calendar&mc_id=197

Unintentional sentence fragments are errors that can wreak havoc on college papers. If you need help avoiding or fixing fragments, or if you would like more strategies for writing sophisticated and grammatically correct sentences, this workshop is for you.

Developing Strategies for Revision

Tuesday, March 2nd from 2:00 – 3:00 p.m. (Richard Levesque)

Click here to register: https://academicsupport.fullcoll.edu/calendar/?cid=my-calendar&mc_id=198

The most successful writers build time into their writing process to edit their work. Editing effectively and efficiently can make your final drafts clearer and more polished. Learn and practice strategies for finding and fixing sentence-level errors in your essays.

How to Annotate Your Texts

Wednesday, March 3rd from 7:00 – 8:00 p.m. (Ashley Peters)

Click here to register: https://academicsupport.fullcoll.edu/calendar/?cid=my-calendar&mc_id=200

Annotating a reading, or marking the pages with notes, is an effective, if not crucial, method to make the most out of the reading you do for college courses. Annotations make it easy to find important information quickly when you look back and review a text. This workshop will help you develop strategies to annotate your readings.

Writing Center Spring 2021

Using Adjective and Adverb Clauses for Strong Sentences

Wednesday, March 10th from 2:00 – 3:00 p.m. (Arthur Hui)

Click here to register: https://academicsupport.fullcoll.edu/calendar/?cid=my-calendar&mc_id=192

This workshop helps students write more complex sentences utilizing adjective and adverb clauses. Students will learn different phrases to increase their sentence variety.

How to Develop Strong Paragraphs

Monday, March 15th from 1:00 – 2:00 p.m. (Nicole Vandever)

Click here to register: https://academicsupport.fullcoll.edu/calendar/?cid=my-calendar&mc_id=201

Many writers have a wealth of ideas yet struggle to organize them into focused and cohesive sections, or “paragraphs.” This workshop will help you strategically develop and place your ideas, arguments, and evidence into clear and robust paragraphs.

How To Fix Your Run on Sentences and Comma Splice Errors

Friday, March 26th from 10:00 – 11:00 a.m. (Heidi Guss)

Click here to register: https://academicsupport.fullcoll.edu/calendar/?cid=my-calendar&mc_id=190

Many students struggle with run-ons and comma splices because they are trying to avoid using short, choppy sentences. This workshop will help you avoid these errors and connect sentences effectively. Suitable for all students.

Developing Strategies for Revision

Monday, April 6th from 2:00 – 3:00 p.m. (Richard Levesque)

Click here to register: https://academicsupport.fullcoll.edu/calendar/?cid=my-calendar&mc_id=199 The most successful writers build time into their writing process to edit their work. Editing effectively and efficiently can make your final drafts clearer and more polished. Learn and practice strategies for finding and fixing sentence-level errors in your essays.

Effectively Integrating Sources Into Your Writing

Thursday, April 15th from 10:00 – 11:00 a.m. (Geoffrey Smith)

Click here to register: https://academicsupport.fullcoll.edu/calendar/?cid=my-calendar&mc_id=196

You've got your arguments. You've got your sources. Seamlessly weaving your essay's argument with support from your sources will strengthen your paper. This workshop will focus on bringing the two together.

How to Develop Strong Paragraphs

Monday, April 19th from 6:00 – 7:00 p.m. (Nicole Vandever)

Click here to register: https://academicsupport.fullcoll.edu/calendar/?cid=my-calendar&mc_id=202

Many writers have a wealth of ideas yet struggle to organize them into focused and cohesive sections, or “paragraphs.” This workshop will help you strategically develop and place your ideas, arguments, and evidence into clear and robust paragraphs.

How to Avoid Sentence Fragments

Monday, April 26th from 11:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. (Brianna Whitehall)

Click here to register: https://academicsupport.fullcoll.edu/calendar/?cid=my-calendar&mc_id=203

Unintentional sentence fragments are errors that can wreak havoc on college papers. If you need help avoiding or fixing fragments, or if you would you like more strategies for writing sophisticated and grammatically correct sentences, this workshop is for you.

Click on the laptop to view the workshop calendar!